In Memoriam

Mozell J. Price. In memory of our sister, who passed away two years ago, July 11, 1971.

Yet Love will dream and Faith will trust,
(Since He who knows our needs is just)
That somh o w, somewhere, meet we trust.
.ilas for him who never sees
The stars shine through the cypress trees!
Who, hopeless, lays his dead away
Nor looks to see the breading day
Across the mournful marbles play!
Who hath not learned, in hours of faith,
The truth to flesh and sense unknown
That Life is ever lord of Death,
And Love can never lose its own!
Sisters, Elizabeth H. Jordan and Elsie M. Carroll. 7-9-1t

Operation Hero Flag in a ceremony on Flag Day were CW Col. Fred Cherry, Hon. Bill Dan, B.Ala., Hon. F. E. Hebert, D-La., Hon. Dan Daniel, D-Va., Jimmy Plowman, Sen. Bob Dole, R-Kan., ex-POW Col. Jim Beam, Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles, and Larry Brown of the Washington redskins.

Operation - Hero Flag

The first flag went to six-year-old Jimmy Plowman, a Californian whose father was shot down in Vietnam five months before Jimmy was born.

"All of us have a continuing obligation to those of our men still unaccounted for and to their families," comments Congressman Daniel.

Colonel Fred Cherry, Colonel James Beam, and Commander James Bell, all former POWs, made the presentation. Also on hand were Larry Brown of the Washington Redskins and Pitcher Jim Palmer of the Baltimore Orioles.

Discouraged by their efforts to communicate with Hanoi officials, Miss Carmella LaSpada who initiated the program and the sports personalities who have cooperated from its beginning turned their attention to the children of the missing servicemen.

Through the National League of Families of Prisoners of War and Missing in Action, No Greater Love asked mothers to report to them the names of their children's favorite sport, athlete, or team.

Since then over 1000 names have been received, and athletes have responded with autographed pictures, telephone greetings, and gifts. No athlete has turned down a request to help.

No Greater Love plans to reach every child of the 1300 MIAs with Operation Hero Flag; the group hopes that individual congressmen will make the presentations in their own district.

TV COMMENTARY

By John Smiley

THE HANDS seen in the Mark Spitz commercial for Shick were not those of Spitz, but belonged to a professional hand modeler. In the TV business handsome hands can find themselves holding many dollars. The going rate for lending a hand is around $180 per commercial. Some hand modelers have done over 1000 commercials.

IT HAS BEEN recently noted that a representative sampling of rating figures indicates that the audience for an average show drops only about 15 per cent when reruns begin.

A REAL DANDY four-hour extravaganza will be telecast on ABC this fall. Called "The Movies," it will include scenes from nearly 150 films--from "Midnight Cowboy" to "The Great Dictator."

BRITISH made "America" won an Emmy recently as "outstanding new series" of the past season. However, NBC ran the award-winning programs in late evenings, after the school children had gone to bed. Now Xerox has managed to clear a line-up of over fifty stations to repeat the 13-week documentary no later than 8-9 p.m., beginning mid-September. Who says computers don't have hearts?

ON JUNE 29 CBS'S "60 Minutes" was moved to Friday nights. It was replaced by "CBS News Retrospective," a series of the network's best documentaries.

ABOUT YOUR HOME

By April Rhodes

Keep your lips from becoming dry and chapped while boating and swimming by using clear lip gloss.

To keep your home from having an abandoned look, while on vacation, ask your neighbor to put some of their garbage in your garbage barrel.

To assure tasty vegetables when taken from the freezer, be sure to chill them rapidly after blanching. Using crushed ice in the water speeds up the process.

If you live in what may be termed as a "hurricane path," you may save property and life if you make plans now to follow in case of a storm.

Always pull out an electric cord by the plug. Frayed cords and loosened wires can damage the appliance or cause a fire.

Add sparkling highlights to your hair by adding the juice of a lemon to your final rinse water and dry in the sun.

If you live in what may be unique to Virginia, and other states also are concerned about the problem, Mills said.

Highway engineers and state police conduct a continuing review of all multi-lane, divided highways in the state to determine if at specific locations additional warning signs or painted pavement markings would help. Additional signs, stating "Do Not Enter" and "Wrong Way", have developed and installed, or will be installed, at all interchanges and other locations. Hundreds of other signs with directional arrows have been erected.

In most of the occurrences observed thus far, Mills said, engineers and police believe that the existing signs and markings were adequate.

He said he believes the steps already taken have proven effective for drivers who obey traffic control devices. "We have found, unfortunately, that signs and markings have little or no effect on impaired drivers or on those who choose to ignore them," Mills said.

"This is an extremely dangerous situation, and we certainly would urge motorists to drive defensively and with an awareness of this particular problem on four-lane, divided roadways in Virginia and other states," Mills said.
